- Outstanding Developmental Educator of the Year ($300 cash award and plaque): This award recognizes the contributions of a person who has helped students achieve their desired goals. The person recognized shows a lifetime of service to students through professional excellence and personal commitment. Evidence of achievement would be clear from student letters, letters from colleagues, and other documentation following the guidelines for the NADE service award.
- Outstanding Developmental Education Program (plaque for program): This award recognizes the excellence of a Developmental or Learning Center program. The program recognized demonstrates excellence through anecdotal records and letters from students, faculty, and administrators as well as by statistical outcome measures. Documentation should follow the guidelines for the NADE John Champaigne award.
- Outstanding Alumnus of a Program ($100 honorarium for speaking at the annual NCADE conference and plaque): This award recognizes a former student of a program associated with NCADE who is a source of pride for the program. Documentation should follow guidelines for the NADE Outstanding Alumnus of a Developmental Education Program.
- Kellogg Institute Scholarship: NCADE is pleased to offer a partial scholarship for an NCADE member who plans to attend the Kellogg Institute. The applicant must have been a member of NCADE for two years and have had some leadership role in NCADE. Preference will be given to a person who has participated in at least two NCADE conferences and is a member of NADE.
